To Whom it May Concern:

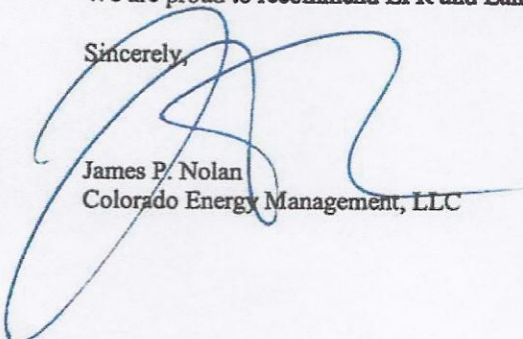

The Lampson International and LPR Construction team supplied heavy haul, crane and hoisting services along with structural and mechanical erection service to Colorado Energy Management on the Hobbs Generating Station construction project located in Hobbs, New Mexico.

During the execution of the project work, both Lampson and LPR operated at a high level of safety awareness and executed their duties with safety first as the working motto.

The project worked a total of 2,500,000 man-hours with no lost time incidents relating to either Lampson's or LPR's work scope.

We are proud to recommend LPR and Lampson to our peers in the construction industry.

Sincerely,

James P. Nolan
